

specifications

On the radar

1 Roofing Tile 4

Roof tiles introduced here are collected from various countries. Ceramic tiles, composed by various brands like Mosaic or Stone Works, are introduced in the design. Tiles are placed using both hand and tool. Tiles are placed in a pattern which adds structure to a combination of stone patterns available in grey, beige and white tones.

2 Stone Architecture

Stone Architecture is designed in a way that stone products have been used to create a space around ground level on the ground floor level. The stone products are placed over the stone. The stone is placed in a way that it is completely and almost completely covered up to the ceiling. The stone will be light with a cut height of around 1.5m and an edge profile and stone light.

3 The Mosaic

Mosaic has been used in a way that it is completely and almost completely covered up to the ceiling. The stone will be light with a cut height of around 1.5m and an edge profile and stone light.

4 A new edition of the influential and pioneering Stone Works

Stone Works has been introduced. Originally published in Italy, Stone Works is a book that has been translated into various languages. It is a book that has been translated into various languages. It is a book that has been translated into various languages.

5 Stone's Architecture

Stone's Architecture is a book that has been translated into various languages. It is a book that has been translated into various languages. It is a book that has been translated into various languages.