

Left Large Hexes. Construct by Interceramic. Image: Tile Council of North America.

Above Large Hexes. East Village HDP by Florida Tile. Image: Tile Council of North America.

Left Muted Tones. Unique Polished by Aparisa in Mood Green. Image: Tile of Spain.

Above Muted Tones. Habitat by Adico in River Blue. Image: Tile of Spain.

Above Patterned Concrete Lookalikes. Soda by Ceramica Bardelli. Image: Ceramica of Italy.

• Large Hexes

Non-rectangular tile styles, specifically hexagons, are growing to monumental sizes in 2021. Hexagons as large as two feet in diameter can add tons of drama to a space.

• Patterned Concrete Lookalikes

Concrete-look tiles will continue to serve as a muse for architects and manufacturers this year, with playful patterns and infinite laying schemes that add a dramatic impact on any indoor or outdoor space.

• Muted Tones

2021 will see a strong rise in muted tile tones, such as soft blues and greens, that create soothing and relaxing spaces.